Mrs. M. J. Pickett of Galena, Kan., was entertained at a bridge-luncheon Thursday by Mrs. J. T. Botkin at the Virginia. Luncheon was served in the dining room, and the guests played bridge in the sun parlor. Those who attended were: Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. Clyde Botkin, Mrs. W. E. Davis, Mrs. Z. G. Hopkins, Mrs. Charles Sessions, Mrs. C. E. Denton, Mrs. F. Gatchell, Mrs. E. L. Strother, Mrs. L. J. Van Lacy, Mrs. Leo Hall, Mrs. Charles Whitlock, Mrs. R. A. Burch, Mrs. E. S. Gresser, Mrs. T. B. Campbell, Miss Rose Mitchell and Mrs. Botkin.

Dainty nees are always in demand and one that combines the necessity for only a moderate outlay of money with beauty of appearance is especially acceptable. The comfortable model shown in the sketch was made of soft silk in a delicate shade of pink and trimmed with ruffles and ruche of point d'esprit. The shoulder seam is very long and shirred in several rows, the arm-hole very wide. Around the neck and down the shoulder seam is a double ruche of point d'esprit held in the center by a black velvet ribbon. The sides are slashed and trimmed with point d'esprit ruffles as are all the edges of the negligee.

News has been received by Mr. and Mrs. George Sharitt of the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Mr. Harry E. Wright, of Coronado, Calif. The wedding took place Wednesday at the Episcopal church in San Diego. Mrs. Sharitt has lately returned from California, where she visited her father, Captain W. M. Fortesque, of San Diego, and Mrs. Sharitt was there with her during the summer and early fall. After Mrs. Sharitt came home, her daughter decided to remain in San Diego through the winter. The marriage took place sooner than her parents expected, though they were aware of her engagement. Mr. Wright is secretary of the Coronado Hotel association, and he and his bride will go to Coronado to live. There is not much to be said about the wedding, for not many details can be economically told in a telegram, but likely the affair was like all others of its kind. Any reporter can write one with eyes shut, if she has the material of the gown and the color of the flowers, for

FINE YOUNG CHICKEN COOKED IN MANY TEMPTING WAYS

Who is the person who doesn't like chicken? Nearly everyone is fond of it. Some like it one way, some another. It matters not which is your favorite style, we cook it nearly every way.

We use only young, farm raised fowls and the meat is sweet and tender whichever way it's cooked.

CHICKEN DRESSING—A rich, savory dressing, made from bits of chicken and the pan fryings from the ones we roast whole. It is deliciously seasoned and wholesome. Per pint 10c.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES—Made from choice parts of the fowl, chopped fine; rolled in cracker dust and fried to a rich brown in pure butter and rolled in flour. Per half bird 35c; whole chicken 65c.

ROAST CHICKEN—Young fowl, well cleaned; stuffed with richly seasoned dressing and roasted in a slow oven. The meat is juicy and tender and the dressing is delicious. They are 30c per pound.

CHOICE QUALITY BULK PICKLES AND OLIVES—These new relishes have just been added. Each is kept absolutely clean and wholesome in patent glass jars. The pickles are of medium size; preserved in both sweet and sour style. Either kind are 10c per dozen. The olives are an exceptionally fine large quality; well preserved. They sell at 50c per qt.

there is never much deviation from the cut and dried lines. Mrs. Wright was sure to have been a charming bride, for she is rosy-cheeked and bright-eyed, and she has lots of spirit and dash. She has been quite a favorite here ever since she began going about to parties, and it is really too bad that she is not coming back here to live, but it has become quite the fashion for the attractive town girls to select "foreign" husbands, leaving the local bachelors to become balders and greyer, waiting for another set of school girls to graduate.

The wide revers so generally popular this year are prominent on the gown shown above. This is made of dust grey cashmere with trimmings of black silk combined with lace. The large revers before mentioned are of the soft silk and are rendered novel by having the lower corners drawn through smoked pearl buckle at the friend who remembered his fondness for them. The following characteristic acknowledgment of the gift was sent to the donor:

Mrs. M. C. Hammett and Mrs. W. T. Crosby entertained the Filmore Street Whist club all day Thursday at the Country club.
